ADMINISTRATIVE INFORMATION

Abstract: This collection includes approximately 66 glazed ceramic figures and objects, 4 Hawaiian stuffed felt dolls, 1 hale, 1 Japanese music box, 54 assorted miniature international dolls dressed in folk costumes. 1 miniature Korean street tableau.

Title: The Carinthia Pua'a Harbottle Collection

Size: 8 linear feet in 14 boxes

Provenance: In 2013, the real estate agent who was cleaning the Harbottle home for rent or sale thought to bring the items to Kamehameha Schools Museum Archive where Archivist Stacy Naipo received it. It is assumed these items were used as classroom teaching tools and reflect Ms. Harbottle's international travel destinations.

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

From the IMUA magazine article titled “Ms. Carinthia Harbottle, Kamehameha Schools Preparatory Department Music Teacher. “

Ms. Carinthia Harbottle

Kamehameha Schools Preparatory Department Music Teacher

1963-1986 Ms. Harbottle began her career at Kamehameha as Miss Pua‘a, and originally as a seventh grade teacher. Her first classes began in the fall of 1963; by the next year, she had become Mrs. Harbottle. In the 1966-67 school year, Ms. Harbottle changed to a sixth grade class, and then in the 1967-68 school year, she made the switch to become a music teacher, where she would remain until retirement.

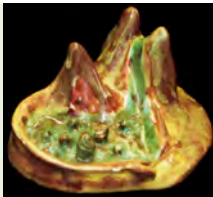

Together, Ms. Harbottle and Ms. Rosehill made a formidable team. Every child knew every word to the “Pia-pa” song, “Pu Pu, Hina, Hina”, all Christmas carols in Hawaiian, and many of those with accompaniment on the ukulele and/or hula motions!

As part of the strong musical tradition at Kamehameha, Ms. Carinthia Harbottle did her part to cement her place in the hearts and minds of many of Hawaii’s most talented musicians of the ‘70s, ‘80s, and ‘90s.
